

VINTAGE OAK SIDEBOARD

Proudly handmade at our workshops in Suffolk, England

An attractive handcrafted oak sideboard which captures the charm and rustic simplicity of country furniture styles popular around the turn of the 20th century.

The impeccable construction using traditional techniques demonstrate the care and passion our highly skilled cabinet makers apply to every piece, resulting in a solid, sturdy product the very opposite of modern flat-pack furniture. Ideal for dining room, sitting room and drawing room, this spacious and versatile vintage oak sideboard provides ample storage for dinner service sets, crockery, cutlery, drinks bottles, games and much more.

The floral detail on the front panels underlines the rural influences of the design. And like all oak furniture, one of the most appealing aspects of this piece is the timber itself. We offer a choice of five wood colours, ranging from oak's natural pale, dusty shade through to a rich, deep, dark Wolsey brown, with the additional option of your choice of finish.
